The Village of Oswego is seeking a results-oriented Economic Development professional to promote the Village of Oswego as a place to start or expand businesses. An ideal candidate will understand Oswego as it is today, help to envision what Oswego could be in the future and strive to achieve it. The Village's leadership emphasizes innovative approaches to achieving end goals and working collaboratively with stakeholders to discover what is possible.

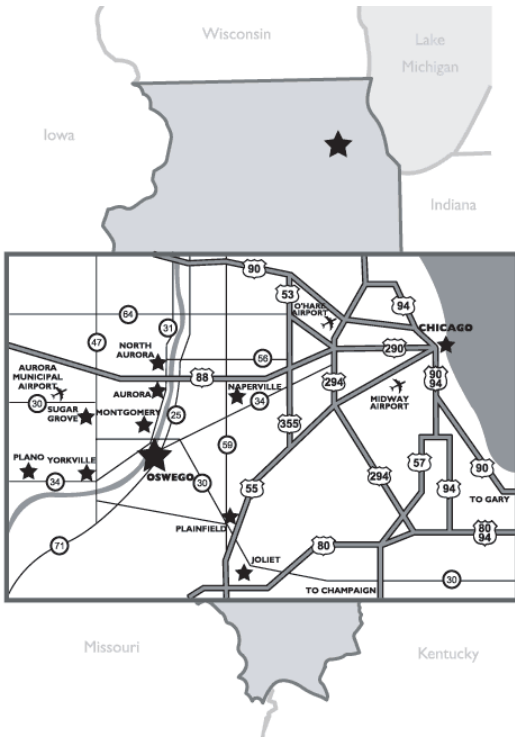

The Village of Oswego is in the midst of significant economic growth, including several new residential developments either under construction or consideration. In the past two years, downtown has seen the construction of new residential, restaurant, retail and office space with more businesses slated to open in 2022. The Village also features significant opportunities for national retailers along the Route 34, Rt. 30, and Orchard Road corridors, as well as industrial space in three business parks. The Village remains in a growth phase, with a current population of approximately 35,000 and a future projected population of between 60,000 and 90,000. An Economic Development Director will play a key role in supporting that growth.

The successful candidate must be able to effectively build relationships with business leaders and support their success. A key task of this position is to develop and execute a comprehensive economic development strategy, and effectively negotiate with targeted businesses within adopted economic development guidelines.

Key goals for the next Economic Development Director include:

- Aggressive and systematic recruitment of new targeted businesses and development to the community
- Increasing the community tax base
- Continued downtown redevelopment
- Attraction of auto dealerships
- Attraction of a boutique hotel and banquet facility
- Filling remaining vacancies on Rt. 34; and
- Attracting cannabis businesses

Community Profile

Kendall County has been one of the fastest growing counties in the U.S. in population and job growth. Oswego, the largest community in the county, has played a major role in that growth.

The Village of Oswego is located approximately 40 miles southwest Chicago in the northeast section of Kendall County at the border of the three collar counties: Will, Kane and DuPage. The Village is located within a short distance to Aurora, Naperville and Joliet, some of the largest municipalities in the metropolitan area outside the City of Chicago.

New residents continue to be drawn to Oswego’s high-quality schools and excellent quality of life. Housing starts were sustained throughout the recession with Oswego ranked in the top seven in housing starts in the Chicago Metropolitan Area from 2011 to 2013.

Development continues today in a variety of single-family and multi-family projects, with five new infill or greenfield subdivisions under construction or anticipated to soon be under construction.

Downtown Revitalization

Oswego’s historic downtown is undergoing a major transition with the recent construction of two significant developments, including a $70 million mixed-use development from The Shodeen Group. The downtown flows into Hudson Crossing Park and the Fox River, creating a unique community space that connects our business district with a picturesque riverscape.

Downtown Oswego features a variety of shops, restaurants, the Oswego

Public Library and connection to local and regional trails. The downtown is also a central location for many community events, including the Village of Oswego’s annual Christmas Walk, the Oswegoland Park District’s Oswego Country Market, and many other events and parades throughout the year.

The Village’s Economic Development Director works to continue to build on the success of downtown, including helping to shepherd several existing projects to successful completion. The Economic Development Director will also work closely with existing downtown businesses to support their needs, as well as target and help attract developers and businesses to the remaining available spaces.

Opportunity to build on success

Economic development is viewed as crucial to the Village's long-term success, not only in providing quality of life for current residents but in continuing to grow the community in a sustainable and positive way. In a short span of time, the Village has taken major steps to promote economic development.

Recent accomplishments include:

- Significant redevelopment in downtown Oswego including:
 - The Reserve at Hudson Crossing, a $70 million project with two six-story mixed-use development by the Shodeen Group that includes public parking decks, restaurants, retail, and apartments
 - 113 Main, a 3-story mixed-use building including a restaurant and office space
 - The Dairy Barn, reconstruction and expansion of the town-favorite "Dairy Hut" into a full-service family restaurant
 - Freddie's Off the Chain, a new Mexican Restaurant at the gateway to downtown
 - Construction of a new parking lot and alley improvements to facilitate additional redevelopment opportunities
- Recent development projects across the community include:
 - Flagship Delta Sonic car wash and service station on Rt. 34, their biggest in the country
 - Raising Cane's Chicken Fingers of Rt. 34
 - New development along Orchard Road, including a Popeyes Louisiana Kitchen and a new strip mall
- Opening of the new Venue 1012 near Orchard Road to serve as a community and regional entertainment venue
- In the midst of a study with Metra to bring commuter rail service to Oswego.

The Municipal Organization

The Village of Oswego operates under the Trustee-Village President form of government with an appointed Village Administrator. The Village President and six Trustees are elected at large for four-year overlapping terms and serve as the legislative branch of Village government. The Trustees are responsible for adopting policies affecting Village affairs, approving the Village budget, enacting ordinances and resolutions, and guiding the Village operations. The Village President is the chief executive officer of the Village and chairs meetings of the Village Board. The Village Administrator acts as the Chief Administrative Officer, managing the day-to-day operations of the Village. The Economic Development Director is appointed by and reports to the Village Administrator.
